TRIP

Singin' In The Rain

The classical musical about Hollywood in the 20's when silent pictures were giving way to "talkies." This is a light-hearted spoof of frantic Hollywood as the advent of sound changes all the movie making rules and Monumental Studios prepares its romantic epic "The Dueling Cavalier". It includes some of the best-loved comedy routines, dances numbers, and romantic love songs ever written.

Please join us on June 16, 2016 as we enjoy dinner and a show!

We will leave campus at 3:30 p.m. and go to Abilene to enjoy a great home cooked meal at Mr. K's Farmhouse. This historic restaurant has served fine food since 1939. Originally named Lena's, after the founder, it boasted being one of President Eisenhower's favorite eating spots for himself and his staff. After previously sampling the fare, I believe that was most certainly so. After dinner we will proceed back to Salina for the production of Singin' in the Rain. I cannot imagine anyone who cannot sing right along with every wonderful tune.

The cost for both the show and meal will be $50 per person. To secure your reservation call (620) 786-1136 or (620) 792-9306. Payment must be received in our office by June 6, 2016 to guarantee your reservation. No e-mail or voice message reservations will be accepted.

WHAT'S COOKING?

Cauliflower Potato Salad

Ingredients:

- 1 head of cauliflower
- 6 hard-boiled eggs, chopped
- 3 stalks of celery, chopped
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1 cup frozen peas, thawed
- ½ pkg. bacon, cooked and crumbled
- 1 cup mayo (I use ½ cup greek yogurt and ½ cup mayo)
- 1 T. mustard
- salt & pepper to taste

Directions:

Boil the cauliflower until fork tender (about 10 minutes). Do NOT cook longer than fork tender. Mix ingredients together. Put in fridge for at least 3 hours.

Strawberries & Cream Mile-High Pie

Ingredients:

- 2 large egg whites
- 2/3 cup granulated sugar
- 2 t. lemon juice (bottled or fresh)
- 10 oz. frozen strawberries, slightly thawed
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 1½ sleeves of graham crackers, separated (gluten free option, is using crushed rice chex cereal or gluten free graham cracker substitute)

Directions:

Place 1½ sleeves graham crackers into a gallon size zip top bag. Using a rolling pin, crush the crackers as evenly as possible. Pour all but ¾ cup into the bottom of a 9x13 cake pan (with lid) or glass casserole dish, spread evenly. Reserve the ¾ cup for the top of the pie. Set frozen strawberries out until partially thawed. In a large stand mixer place egg whites, sugar, lemon juice, and slightly thawed strawberries. It is important to mix these ingredients together and NOT separately. Mix on high speed for 5-10 minutes until mixture is stiff, fat and full. It will fill the entire bowl after it has mixed this long. Carefully scrape this mixture into an extra large mixing bowl. In the same mixer bowl, whip whipping cream until peaks form (2-3 minutes). Gently fold the whipping cream into the strawberry mixture until it is mixed well. Do not overmix or you may lose some of the air and fluff of the mixture. If there are small streaks of white cream it's fine. Pile this mixture high on the graham cracker crust. Top with remaining graham cracker crumbs, cover with lid or plastic wrap and freeze for 12-24 hours before serving. You want it nice and firm before serving, and it thaws really fast.
