Criminal Justice/Law Enforcement and Technology Management

Your Degree Option

K-State offers a Bachelor of Science Degree in Technology Management through distance education. This degree completion program is designed for students who have completed the Criminal Justice/Law Enforcement program at Barton Community College. The Technology Management degree provides a solid understanding of the fundamental areas in management: finance, accounting, business, and marketing. The curriculum is designed to prepare the student for the diverse environment of the business world as it relates to Criminal Justice and Law Enforcement. By combining a technical area of concentration with advanced business studies, you can be a professional who has the practical and leadership skills to move forward in business.

Your Career

The Criminal Justice Program can provide students with the necessary academic skills to achieve a rewarding career as a police officer, deputy sheriff, correctional officer, highway patrol trooper, or another of the many exciting positions in the criminal justice system. By coupling this degree with Technology Management, graduates are prepared for supervisory and management positions in a variety of criminal justice related fields. Graduates can use their management and business skills to help further their careers, as they will understand how to hire and supervise employees, train new employees, train new supervisors and managers, plan budgets, and manage inventory.

Get started!

The degree map on the reverse page will show you a listing of classes you need to take from Barton Community College and K-State to complete the Criminal Justice/Law Enforcement and Technology Management Distance Education 2+2. This degree map has been reviewed and accepted by both schools as an illustration, which is subject to change. Many other combinations of courses may be possible, so students should contact a K-State representative or their community college advisor before committing to a particular transfer program.

To get started, contact the K-State 2+2 representative by calling 620-786-1188 or e-mail bartondce@k-state.edu.
