Military Training

Barton offers two options in military training programs, including Military Schools and Military On-Site Training/MTT. Read below for more on these programs, or visit the Military Training website at military.bartonccc.edu for full details.

Military Schools

The Military Schools program's primary mission is to provide centralized vocational training to the soldiers of Fort Riley Kansas. This is a unique training mission in that the skills trained are specifically military and not generally available to the civilian market. Additionally, this training venue provides college credits to soldiers for successful course completion. This translates into promotion points which help soldiers advance their military careers. The program's secondary mission is to provide training to US Government employees and other members of the total Army family including Reserve and National Guard personnel, military retirees, and authorized military family members.

Military On-Site Training/MTT

The Military On-Site Training (MOST) program's mission is to enhance the readiness posture of US Army Reserve, National Guard, as well as Active Duty units by delivering cost-effective and flexible skill-based training. Click on the image below for a full brochure of courses and services available. All courses are delivered in a hands-on training format. College credit may be available depending on training location. Instruction can be customized to meet the specific needs of each command.
