Outline following the Jan. 3rd for a proposed direction:

1. Further clarifying the meaning of 'why' and narrowing down the College's why.
2. Taking the College's 'why' (past) and turning it into a 'cause' (future). The cause would be institutionally focused.
   - Taking our identified cause and looking at Barton's vision.
3. Leads to discussion about the Hedgehog Concept. This was introduced in the supplementary handout, and this would be campus specific.
4. As soon as the hedgehog concept is identified for all campuses, problem identification begins.
5. Prioritized problem identification will lead to discussions about different types of innovation and problem solving.

Additional things to consider:
- Minimizing Time – different structures
   - 30 mins of deep work with minimized distractions – we can get a lot done
   - After initial meeting start working in groups of 5-6 people each over a two-week window (30 mins – face-to-face and online options) and then bring back to the large group (maybe a longer time).
- New perspectives / divide and conquer:
   - Spread out the work to identified sub-teams for each campus (only 3-5 people) (FR, FL, GB, GV, BOL)
      - This will provide new perspectives, minimize time commitment, keep forward progress, present collective information from sub-teams.
   - I'd facilitate all teams and bring information back together, maintain progress, and next steps.
