HIGH SCHOOL "JUMP START" COURSES

Barton provides high school sophomores, juniors, seniors, and gifted underclassmen college classes while in high school.

Dual Credit/Concurrent Classes (College Advantage Program) -

Barton offers college classes in your high school (within Barton's seven county service area).

Get Ahead Program (GAP) -

Barton's on-campus afternoon college courses are designed to give high school students a sneak peek of what to expect in a college class environment and coursework.

BARTonline and EduKan offer seven sessions and more than 400 course selections per semester for your online degree.

BARTonline: (877) 620-6606

$133 per semester credit hour

BARTonline.org provides you the opportunity to earn or complete an Associate Degree online. Courses taken at other colleges and universities, plus any military and work experience, may be applied towards degree completion requirements at Barton.

EduKan: (877) 433-8526

$130 per semester credit hour

EduKan.org is an online consortium consisting of Barton and five other community colleges. EduKan provides you another opportunity within the Barton family to obtain your Associate Degree online.

ONLINE LEARNING

We think you will find the overall cost very reasonable when compared to traveling and living on-campus at some colleges. Remember, you can be employed and study at the same time, because online courses can be taken around your busy schedule.

Each online learning entity charges one flat rate per semester credit hour, plus the cost of textbooks and additional materials. This fee is the same for all online students regardless of Kansas residency.

Costs for online courses are subject to change.

K-STATE AT BARTON

The Kansas State University Wildcats and the Barton Community College Cougars have joined together to form a K-State at Barton partnership. The Cats and Cougars are working together to provide high quality, full service educational opportunities to people in Central Kansas.

The K-State at Barton Partnership brings education closer by:

- Offering distance education courses, bachelor's degree and master's degree programs to Central Kansas
- Developing transfer and articulation agreements between Barton and K-State
- Assisting current Barton students with admission to Kansas State University
- Providing area residents with opportunities for certification and degree completion as well as professional development

For more information, contact Jennifer Pfortmiller at (620) 786-1188 or bartondce@ksu.edu, or visit the K-State at Barton website at dce.k-state.edu/affiliations/2+2/barton.

Barton's proud association with Fort Riley and the U.S. Army began in 1984 with a single training contract. The Fort Riley campus administration building is located in Building 217 on the main post of Fort Riley. The campus also provides instructional services for Troop School, BSEP and LSEC, which are located on Custer Hill.

In addition, BARTonline, Barton's premier site for online courses, is administered from the Fort Riley campus.

Courses also are offered at a nearby outreach site located at Grandview Plaza, which is home to the Hazardous Materials Handling and Emergency Management, Emergency Medical Technician, and Paramedic programs.

The "Trooper Bill" statue stands as a tribute to the U. S. Cavalry symbolizing a man, a soldier, and of a service living on after him. Situated on the Cavalry Parade Field just north of the Barton-Fort Riley campus, this statue's base is also the resting place of "Chief" — the last horse carried on Army rolls as a cavalry mount. "Chief" died in 1968 and was buried with full military honors.
