Dare to Know

Volunteers

The Barton Library welcomes community members who wish to support the Library through volunteer service. Volunteers provide additional assistance to enhance, not replace, the work of paid staff.

- Volunteers must maintain the same high standards of customer service as paid staff.
- Volunteers must follow relevant guidelines explained in the Barton Library's Professional Employee Handbook.
- The Library does not accept volunteers completing court-ordered community service.
- Volunteers serve without pay and are not covered by the College's workers' compensation insurance.
- Volunteer tasks must be meaningful to the volunteer and essential to Library operations.
- Volunteer service does not guarantee future paid employment at the Library.
- Paid Library employees, including student workers, may not volunteer at the Library.
