

BART AWARDS

COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Two awards presented monthly, beginning with Dr. Garstecki presenting the inaugural awards in November.

Each recipient keeps the award for one month. When passing it on, the recipient selects the next individual or department to receive it and contributes something personal, such as a note or a small gift, creating a meaningful chain of recognition across campus.

“I wanted to start a fun yet meaningful way to recognize our outstanding faculty and staff. The Bart Awards were created to give recognition to an individual or department that had a major accomplishment, went above and beyond to help someone, or just consistently shows up every day and makes Barton a better place for our students and employees.” - Dr. Garstecki

Local artist Barry Bowers created the handmade woodcarvings of the Barton mascot to provide a personal and artistic touch to the recognition.

We noted your diligence to continue to serve students and allay their concerns as best you could under the circumstances. The most notable example was keeping a manual list of the students whose Tuition Assistance might be disrupted to see if a stopgap scholarship could assist. We also understand that during the shutdown the buildings were not maintained for climate control resulting in a trying physical experience. Whether it's a challenging situation like the recent shutdown, or just normal day-to-day operations, you always work with our team to make financial aid as seamless as possible for students – which benefits us all!” - Myrna Perkins
